 - Yes! These boxes are a great group activity for a family, business, civic group, or faith community to assemble.
- Are these boxes geared toward families with children of a certain age?
 - No, we are not able to create boxes specifically for age-specific families. We know that many foster families in our community have children across a wide spectrum of ages, from toddlers to teens. We ask those making the boxes to think about activities that are friendly to a wide range of ages.
